

5 BENEFITS OF AN IRRIGATION SYSTEM

5 Benefits Of An Irrigation System

There are a number of reasons why homeowners and commercial business owners choose to install irrigation systems. From ease of use to saving money, the benefits are extensive. A well installed irrigation system can increase the value of your home, while putting your mind at ease when it comes to lawn and garden watering.

1 Automated & Convenient

In today's busy world, time is valuable. The less time spent on home and lawn maintenance means more time spent doing what we love.

An irrigation system can handle your watering needs. Smart systems will water automatically, taking the guesswork out of the equation.

The convenience of an automated system allows owners to carry on with their day with the confidence their lawn and gardens are being cared for.

2 Water At The Optimal Time

Watering your lawn and garden at the correct time is crucial for optimal growth and lifespan of your grass and plants. Typically, it is best to water your property in the early hours of the day as the temperatures are generally lower and the wind hasn't picked up yet.

Watering before the sun is beating down allows for the most water to be absorbed by the grass and plants avoiding waste and excessive evaporation.

If the wind is high there is a risk of water being wasted as it may end up being blown away from the grass and gardens.

An automated system will activate at the appropriate time for optimal absorption, all while you are getting ready for your day.

3 Water The Optimal Amount

Many people are unsure of the amount of water required for their lawns. Either over or under watering can cause damage, loss of nutrients and excessive waste of a valuable resource.

An automated sprinkler system will deliver the exact amounts needed to ensure your lawn grows strong and healthy, while ensuring your wallet and the environment don't suffer.

4 Aesthetics and Safety

Having a professionally installed irrigation system will save you from dragging out your unsightly hose just to put it away again each day after watering. That is unless you want it left, sprawled across the lawn.

Children are free to run around without fear of being tripped by a garden hose. Discreetly and safely placed, the only tell will be your immaculate lawn and gardens.

5 Water When You're Out Of Town

Summer is the time when many of us enjoy vacations and weekend getaways. The last thing that you want to worry about while on holidays is your lawns water needs.

Save your family and friends the hassle of having to handle the task. An automated system will have your watering needs covered whether you are at home or miles away on a beach.

Why Hire Blue Jay Irrigation

After 30 years in the industry, Blue Jay has seen and done it all when it comes to irrigation systems. Having serviced residential, commercial and golf course clients has provided invaluable experience.

More importantly, Blue Jay Irrigation considers its customer service to be the most important aspect of their business. From design and planning to installation and maintenance, Blue Jay builds long lasting relationships with their customers to ensure they receive the best service possible.

Whether it's a private residence or a multi-million dollar golf course, the team at Blue Jay Irrigation understands that excellent products and service is what keeps clients satisfied.

Contact Info

1-800-287-5622

519-641-7483

519-641-3578

Send an email to sales@bluejayirrigation.com